

News about the learning and life at Broom Valley Community School

Issue 5

Dear Parents/Carers and Children...

I hope that you had a lovely half-term break with your children. It was fantastic to see them back on Monday all ready for learning.

We have an action packed few weeks ahead here at Broom Valley. From Monday 5th March, the whole school will be involved in a writing and art project for the entire week. This is in celebration of World Book Day. There will be no dressing up on World Book Day this year, although there will be a dressing up event later in the term. Instead, the children will be writing their own stories and then illustrating them. Their fabulous publications will then be displayed in school.

The following week sees the Y2 children going on their first residential to Whirlow Farm. The excitement is building and I know they are going to have a fantastic experience.

On Friday 15th March, Broom Valley will be doing something funny for money. This charity event will be a non-uniform day (the children will be encouraged to wear something red) and there will be buns to buy. Amongst other activities, there will be the chance to enter Broom Valley's Got Talent or be part of the audience!
